Notice concerning the Company's Medium-Term Management Plan

Tokuyama Corporation (hereinafter referred to as “Tokuyama” or “the Company”) today announced details of its Medium-Term Management Plan that covers the period from fiscal 2021, the fiscal year ending March 31, 2022 to fiscal 2025, the fiscal year ending March 31, 2026. Brief details are presented as follows.

1. Background behind formulating the Medium-Term Management Plan

Positioned as the “Cornerstone of the Group’s Revitalization,” Tokuyama announced details of its Medium-Term Management Plan, which covers the five-year period from fiscal 2016, the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, to fiscal 2020, the fiscal year ending March 31, 2021, in May 2016. With the goal of becoming a global leader in advanced materials while at the same time securing a top position through traditional businesses in Japan, every member of the Tokuyama Group has worked in unison to realize a cost competitive business structure. Thanks largely to these endeavors, the Group has achieved certain results. This includes withdrawing from unprofitable businesses, boosting sales of semiconductor-related, dental materials, and other products, and reducing interest-bearing debt. Buffeted by such factors as the impact of COVID-19 and an increase in fixed costs attributable to upfront investments, however, we anticipate falling short of our final fiscal year net sales, operating income, ROA, and cash conversion cycle targets.

Looking ahead, the business environment in which the Company operates is expected to undergo considerable change, against the backdrop of the growing awareness toward environmental issues and rapid progress in the digital revolution. Recognizing the need to undertake a fundamental review of conventional strategies that have been based on its own coal-fired thermal power as a source of competitiveness, as well as the importance of building and growing businesses that are not merely extensions of the past, Tokuyama has put in place the five-year “Medium-Term Management Plan 2025”, which begins in April 2021, guided by its newly established vision.
